Discovery Program Training Flyer

becoming lifelong learners of the natural world

Each week throughout the school year, students from different elementary schools, and often diverse backgrounds, come together for a shared experience in an environment that fosters respect for self and others and promotes the importance of the unique environmental resources available at each park.

Through the use of science inquiry, hands-on learning, and guided instruction, students participating in the outdoor Discovery Kit Program learn about ecological concepts and share moments of discovery in the outdoors, many for the first time.

The Discovery program includes pre-field trip teacher training and Park Ranger classroom visits, class field trips to the park, and post field trip activities for classroom and home use.

All curriculums are correlated with the California Science Framework Standards, grades K-6, and focuses on topic such as:

- Photosynthesis
- Forest Ecology
- The Westward Movement
- Geology
- Birding Basics
- Native American History

...and much, much more

Fact: In 2011, the Discovery program served more than 8,000 students. More than 50% of those children were on the Government Free and Reduced Meal Program - a true indicator of poverty levels.

Attention Educators!

Attend a free, short training session on the Discovery Program for Stelzer County Park and we'll reimburse you for the field trip transportation costs.

The award winning Discovery Program, which sends elementary school-age children on an outdoor environmental education adventure, is at Louis Stelzer County Park in Lakeside. The program has assisted hundreds of educators and their students to explore the wealth of nature in their own backyards.

The hands-on course includes pre-field trip activities for classroom use, field trip activities for use in the park, and post-field trip activities for classroom and home use. The curriculum is correlated with the California Science Framework and includes information on fire ecology and the Multiple Species Conservation Program (MSCP).

Grade Levels & Titles Include

- Grades K-1: Birds of Stelzer Park
- Grades 1-3: Nature Awareness and General Ecology
- Grades 2-4: Native Americans of San Diego County
- Grades 4-6: Plants of San Diego County
- Grades 4-6: Geology Study of Stelzer Park

Coming Soon to San Diego A green alternative to aftercare

Dr. Kristi Freeman, who started San Diego's first full-time home euthanasia and hospice practice, introduces the first environmentally-friendly form of aftercare to San Diego.

Now you can offer your clients a green alternative to cremation. Alkaline Hydrolysis is a gentle, more responsible option to traditional methods of aftercare. Now your clients can honor the loss of their companion without harming the environment.

For additional information, please call or check out my new website at www.gracefuldeparture.com.
